

PARENTS FEEDBACK ON CURRICULUM
ACTION TAKEN

Academic Year: 2019– 20

1. The faculty suggested that each specialization undertake study tours separately, considering the distinct areas of interest and the challenges faced by each. This proposal was thoroughly discussed in the staff meeting. Consequently, a decision was reached that, starting from 2020, each specialization will embark on individual study tours.

STUDY TOUR

Study tour, under the social work curriculum, provides an avenue for the trainees to experience and learn the different approaches adopted by the NGOs and civil society bodies, across the nation, for the wellbeing of human kind. For the purpose North East Institute of Social Science and Research (NEISSR) organized ten days study tour to Chennai (Youth Development), Kolkata (Community Development) and Northeast (Peace Studies) respectively.

The MSW trainees of Peace and Conflict Transformation studies specialization, NEISSR conducted Swachhta Pakhwada outside the compound of Kangla Fort, Imphal during the study tour in the month of Jan-February, 2020. On 16th January 2020, the MSW trainees of NEISSR took a Swachhta pledge.

Community Development: On 6th Feb. 2020 the trainees of Community Development specialization carried out a cleanliness drive as part of Swatch Pakhwada under the guidance of Dr. Toli H. Kiba, Assistant professor, NEISSR at Sarachi Centre Kolkata.

Youth Development: On 2nd Feb. 2020 the MSW trainees of Youth Development Specialization, NEISSR conducted Swachhta Pakhwada at Sacred Heart College, Thirupattur, Chennai in collaboration with the Sacred Heart College MSW trainees.

On 6th Feb. 2020 the MSW trainees of Youth Development, NEISSR along with Dr. Amit Das, faculty conducted Swachhta Pakhwada at Cancer Hospital, Chennai.

Peace and Conflict Transformation Studies: The MSW trainees of Peace and Conflict Transformation studies specialization, NEISSR conducted Swachhta Pakhwada outside the compound of Kangla Fort, Imphal during the study tour in the month of Jan-February, 2020.

The visit was a life changing experience for the social work trainee as were exposed to the reality of how such social issues are tackled by such organizations, and challenges encountered in their everyday work. The visited organizations were dedicated for uplifting the poor and marginalized communities. The trainees witnessed different kinds of services such as supportive education, legal assistance and protection, healthcare, shelter for the homeless children, vocational courses for youth, awareness

2. Almost all the opinion of parents on job was satisfactory to excellent. One response was found not satisfactory. Therefore, the matter was put forward to the staff meeting and Ms. Sungjemtola was appointed as the Placement Coordinator in order to coordinate the Placement cell efficiently.

Desk of
Placement Coordinator

It gives me immense pleasure to introduce and present before you the highly competent, dynamic and professional social work students of the batch 2018-2020 of North East Institute of Social Sciences and Research (NEISSR). It is indeed a privilege to present before you a group of dedicated, charismatic and talented group of students who are prepared and ever willing to take on the rightful place in the diverse spheres offered to them.

At NEISSR, the students undergo a rigorous and well-rounded programme of education that includes not only theatrical discourses but multiple engagements practically. Field practicum is the heart and soul of the educational programme and it paradigms into practical learning. The field work programme incorporated the components of orientation programme, concurrent fieldwork, rural camp, study tour and block placement. Students are also exposed to numerous seminars and workshops, employability skills training and much more over the period of this two years course.

I have been closely associated with this batch of 2018-2020 and I can proudly and confidently state that they are incredibly talented and a passionate group of promising professionals. I am confident that the requirements of your organization shall be more than adequately met by our highly efficient students. Therefore, I on behalf of the Placement Cell of NEISSR, would be happy to welcome you to NEISSR, for recruiting our students to serve your esteemed organization.
