Training on Professional Practice Skills for 21st Century Social Workers

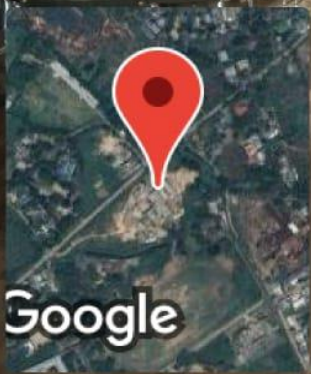

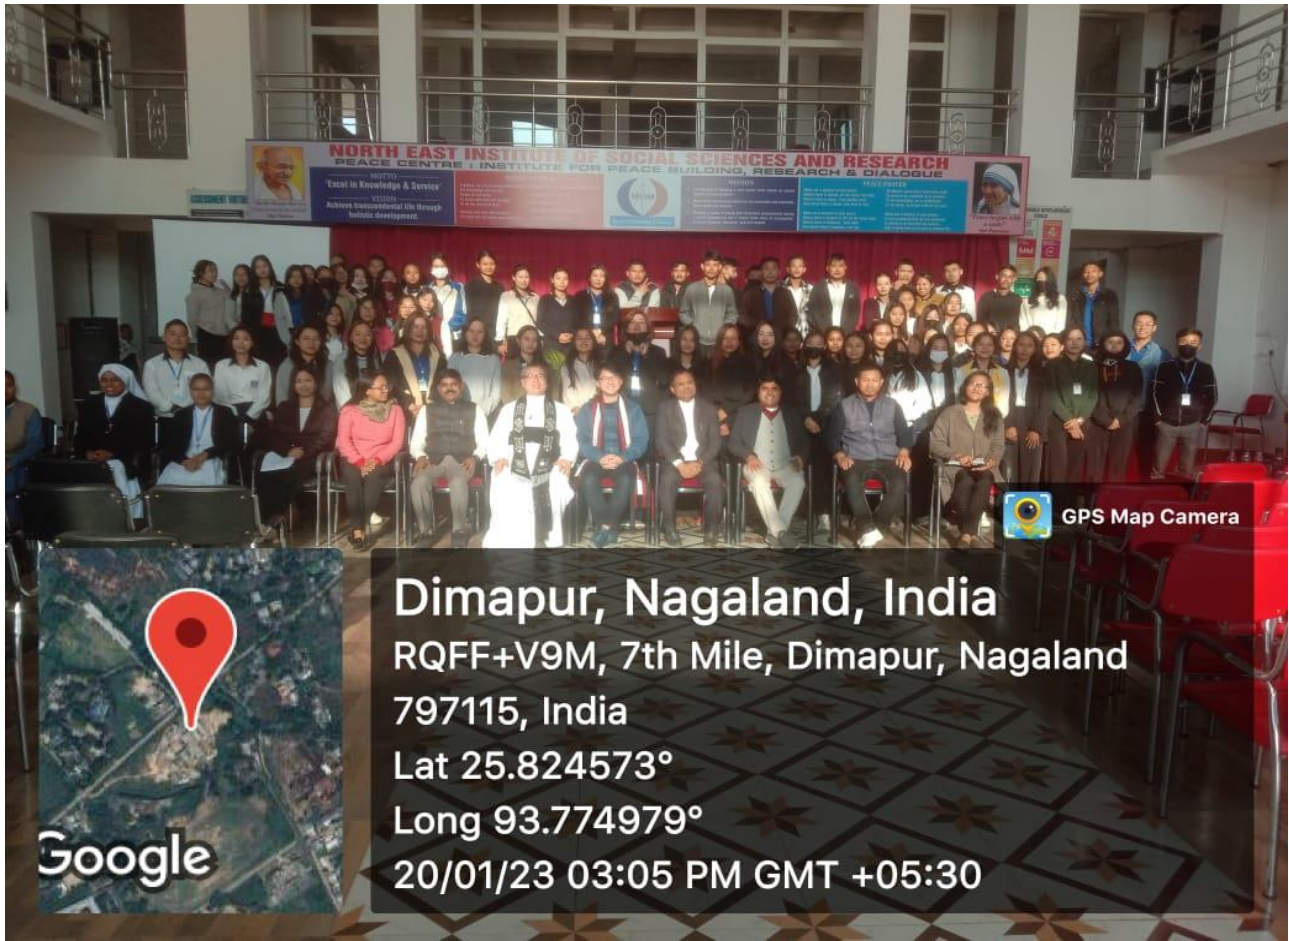

Education 5.0 stresses the need of education to retouch with humanistic values in an age of internet and advancement of technology. There is greater need for younger generation to reconnect, reinvent in Post Covid scenario that saw a fast changing system in the way education is imparted and viewed upon. Keeping in view the challenges and learning gaps among the youths and students of social workers, a practice based course that work towards for the welfare and upliftment for the society, NEISSR has organized two days orientation program on Skill Building for Social Workers at Peace Center, Chümoukedima. 113 social work students along with faculty members of NEISSR attended the program.

The orientation program was conducted by Dr. Jonas Richard A, Director, Centre for Life Skills Education (CLSE), Kristu Jayanti College, Bengaluru. During the orientation program, it touched upon relevant 21st century skills such as soft skills, technical skills and professional skills were covered. Dr. Jonas spoke about the importance of having the rights skills and attitude to become a successful social worker. He stresses that self awareness which is the conscious knowledge of oneself is fundamental in responding to one's own circumstances in helping people reconnect with core of human values a prerequisite towards finding inner peace.

Dr Sherman Kuek, Professor of Theology and Dialogue, Christian Institute for Theological Engagement (CHRISTE) and Convener of Splendor Project, Malaysia also gave a lecture on the importance of Dialogue and a requisite skill for peace building process. In his statement he opines the world need peace makers rather than peace keeper. He talked about various dimension of dialogue and the importance of adopting inclusive dialogue that affirms as well as gave space to understand and include different set of ideology, faith and beliefs in a pularistic society like India.

.Life skills education has been given importance in the light of new education policy and university has taken effort to sharpen and develop life skills among students to complement the need and requirement of society especially for social workers in their approach with the larger community. Building on the needs and in harnessing potentials of youth for nation building NEISSR have initiated 'SKILL ME' program in 2022 and in the process of inducted into the education curriculum. Skill development program intends to adopt along the line of a 'MORUNG', a traditional Naga system of imparting education. Two days orientation program saw the building of life skills among social workers who would in turn be trainers and carry forward in building skills of Nagaland Youths. Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Fr. C.P. Anto Principal NEISSR talked about the importance of imparting soft skills, and churning education for more mindfulness to make students more humane in their dealing with others when at times relationship has become mechanical.

During the orientation program the students also had the opportunity to take part in group activities and discussion. Through this, the students learnt how to self reflect and handle different types of cases and how to effectively communicate ideas and enhance solving problem skills.

NEISSR conducts Orientation Program for BSW and MSW students (2022)

North East Institute of Social Sciences and Research conducts Orientation Program for the BSW and MSW students on 26th of July 2022 at Newman Pastoral Centre Auditorium Chümoukedima. NEISSR has inducted 26 students for the BSW course and 100 students for MSW course for the academic session 2022. The moderator for the session was Sir Stephen Gangmei, Assistant professor, NEISSR.

Fr Benny Varghese, Director of Newman Pastoral Centre, invoked God's presence and blessings in the midst. He also gave a short word of encouragement to the students. He encouraged by letting the students know of their worth and how each individual is special, unique and important. He also emphasized how each student should be thirsty and strive for new knowledge and learnings. He stated that one should begin with success and end with success. Act positively and happily, fully accepting oneself and others. Have a thirst for knowledge, be positive, triumphant and be clear of one's goals.

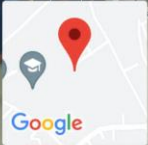

Dr. Fr. C.P Anto Principal, NEISSR gave the welcome address. He welcomed the students and thanked the students for choosing NEISSR. He encouraged the students that God has a plan for everyone. We should be passionate for learning and have a possibility thinking. He stated " Which seems impossible today will become possible in the days to come." He challenged the students to have big dreams and also encouraged the students that everyone should be driven, touched and gripped by God because when we are driven by God, nothing can stop us.

Later, Sir Stephen Gangmei gave a short presentation on the Glimpse of NEISSR followed by the introduction of faculty members. Separate sessions were taken for BSW, MSW 1st year and MSW 2nd year students.

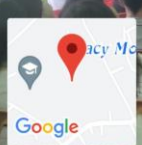

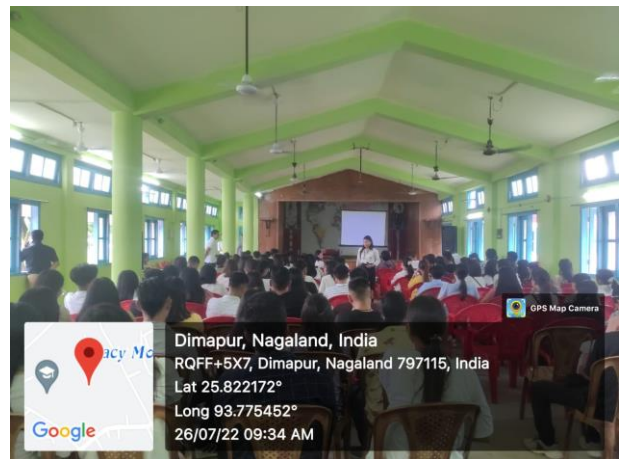

The Second-year students were oriented about the three different specializations namely Community Development, Youth Development and Peace and Conflict Transformation studies, offered by the institute. It is to be noted that every year, the second-year students are oriented about the three specializations in order to give a clarity to the students about the specialization so that they can choose the specialization according to their own field of interest. Likewise, the students were made known of the three specializations and what to expect from it. The students were also given time to choose their specialization through Google form based on Preference 1, Preference 2 and Preference 3.

An Ice breaking session on Catch a New Friend was led by Dr. Lily Sangpui, Assistant professor NEISSR for the 1st year MSW students and BSW students. Ice breaking games were played with the objectives to create a safe and relaxed environment where the students were able to make new friends, share ideas and participate more fully, build rapport among them and foster a productive learning environment.

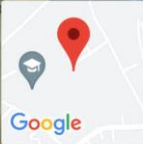

The program ended with an experience sharing, evaluation and prayer.

CONCURRENT FIELDWORK

Concurrent fieldwork is an integral part of social work profession and under the social work curriculum students are expected to do 16 hours of fieldwork in a week. For the said purpose twice in a week, i.e. Thursday and Friday, MSW trainees are expected to carry out their concurrent fieldwork being placed under different NGOs and communities.

MSW DISSERTATION

Dissertation in the final (fourth) semester is an academic requirement for the students to qualify for the award of Master of Social Work. The purpose of the dissertation is to make the students familiar with research process and to in-still a research attitude in them. For the purpose of dissertation students are expected to take up research on a topic relating to social work practice with a sample size between 30-50 respondents. Accordingly, the students of final semester submitted their dissertation paper covering wide range of topics like traditional method of conflict resolution, youth unemployment, rural development, livelihood, and so on.

Fourth NEISSR Foundation cum Graduation day 2019

Orientation program cum Peace treat for the students of NEISSR (2019)

North East Institute of Social Sciences and Research (NEISSR) started the 2019 academic year with a Peace Retreat cum Orientation on the 21-22nd of January 2019 at the institute premises at Bishop House, Tajen Ao Road Dimapur. Seven sessions were spread across the two days focusing on the seven pillars upon which NEISSR is built- Mindfulness, Spirituality, Love, Punctuality, Integrity, Leadership and Dialogue. Dr Deben welcomed the students to the new session and introduced the programme schedule for the upcoming days.

Dr. Fr. C.P. Anto facilitated the session on Mindfulness. He highlighted the inability of academic education even among the highly educated in transforming lives by pointing out the human condition infected by corruption, violence, fighting, lack of self-control, state of disorder, discontent. He spoke about the importance of mindfulness which included being constantly aware of one's action and the direction towards where one is headed. Mindfulness is vital so that one can be transformed and be transforming agents. A culture of mindfulness helps enhance intellectual skills, personal, interpersonal and societal skills. Dr. Fr. C.P. Anto led the students and faculty to a time of meditation after which the students expressed their feedback.

The session on spirituality was taken up by Fr. John Poji and Ms. Meriakthule Chawang. They underscored the importance of self-reflection and spirituality as a way of life. Mind, body and spirit are interconnected and they cannot be separated. The students articulated their understanding of spirituality at the end of the session. Fr. Beni Varghese, Principal of St. Joseph's College Jakhama delivered a talk on Love and the mission of every person to share about God's love even as one respects people of different faiths, cultures and backgrounds. The being of God is love itself -unconditional, unchanging and unending. And in the process of being a reflection of God, a human being can communicate passion, restore relationships and offer in service to others the experience of God's presence. On the second day of the Peace retreat cum Orientation, the session on Punctuality was facilitated by Ms. Sungjemtola Jamir and Dr. Deben Bachaspatimayum. The students were proactive in the group activity based on Punctuality as they addressed and presented the outcome of the group discussion. They enumerated the challenges to being punctual, contributing factors and practical ways of overcoming the challenges.

Ms. Imnuksungla Pongen and Dr. Amit Das presented talks on leadership and used audio visual medium as they engaged the students in active participation during the process. Dr. Deben Bachaspatimayum involved the students in an activity that demonstrated the role of dialogue in community and spoke on the importance of dialogue to measure the depth of kindness and unity. Ms Imnuksungla Pongen presented a talk on Integrity prepared by Dr. Fr. C.P. Anto and highlighted the scope of social work profession. The Peace retreat cum orientation concluded with parallel sessions on professional, individual and group goal setting of the three specializations for the Fourth semester students- Youth Development, Community Development and Peace and Conflict Transformation and Introduction to syllabus and curriculum activities for the second semester students.

ORIENTATION PROGRAMME 2018

North East Institute of Social Sciences and Research organised an orientation programme for the MSW students on 24th July, 2018. The students were warmly welcomed by Fr. John Poji the Administrator and Vice-Principal of NEISSR and invoked God's presence with an invocation prayer. In the opening session Peace Activist Mr. Arhomo Nugllie exhorted in his short message to the students that Master of Social Work is not only about specific field of study but it includes multiple field of study where an individual is exposed to different subject matter like, psychology, science, history, politics, management, entrepreneurship etc.

Dr. Fr, C.P Anto the principal of NEISSR talked about the importance of setting a goal in life. In his interaction with the students he reminded all the participants to have the attitude of possibility thinking and vision oneself the future into reality. Fr. C.P Anto encouraged all the participants not to be swayed away by negative forces, or be frustrated by obstacles that may develop on the way towards reaching the goal. He discussed about the advantages and disadvantages of goal setting to the participants, and mentioned that social worker can work in different settings like in Health, Rights, Welfare sector, Agency administrator, Institutional settings and Community Development under NGOs', Industries, Government Organization, Corporates, and others. To set a goal effectively, one should have the skills to conduct SMART goal training, where the goal should be- Specific, Measureable, Achievable, Realistic and Time-phase (SMART). One should also conduct SWOT analysis, where it will help to identify the Strength, Weakness, Opportunities and Threats, he added. Furthermore Dr. Fr. C.P Anto pointed out the development of education should be on three perspective qualities-the head level of understanding, analyzing and functioning, the heart level of empathy and feelings for other and the hand level of reaching out to the needy people who need our help.

At the end of interaction, the speaker urged all the participants to be a source of social healer within the family to community, and to society as well. During the reflection time, one of the students shared with great enthusiasm that he had ran out of fuel but got refilled after attending the session. Another one of the trainee Ms. Susan, gave a reflection and urged the participants saying that there's no age bound to learn, but again not to wait too long if one wanted to pursue further studies. Questioning on how a leader should act or respond by one of the students, Dr. Fr. C.P Anto encouraged all the students to practice participatory leadership which is not dominating, but to be a kind of leader who are informative, aware, inclusive, and at the same time make another set of new leaders.
